Greenbelters Share in Celebrating 32nd Labor Day Festival Activities

by Leta Mach

From the diaper derby to new group games, from a NASCAR race car to the Greenpeace inflatable whale, from the Miss Greenbelt Pageant to the tennis tournament, from hot dogs to sukiyaki and from a drawing for a $100 shopping spree to an endless variety of stage entertainment, there is something for everyone at the 32nd annual Labor Day Festival. Beginning Friday, August 29, and continuing through Monday, September 1, the Festival, right in the center of old Greenbelt at the Roosevelt Mall parking lot, is the perfect place to enjoy a last summer fling.

Opening ceremonies for the Festival are at 7 p.m. Friday, August 29. They feature a concert by the Greenbelt Concert Band. (Roosevelt Center, in front of Statue), the introduction of city officials, the announcement of Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen of 1986 and a drawing for free ride tickets. Other events of the exhibition; running races; the big wheels roadcross, and horseshoe, golf, tennis and softball tournaments.

Midway

The Carnival Midway will be open from 6-11 p.m. on Friday, 1-11 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and after the Parade on Monday. Rides to excite all ages will be available each day except during a dinner break from 5-6:30 p.m. Dedicated riders can enjoy unlimited rides for one low price on Saturday and Sunday from 1-5 p.m.

Booths this year will again feature food, games, crafts and items for sale. Sample activities include

NEW PARADE ROUTE

The Labor Day Parade route has been changed this year. The new route will follow Crescent Road from Greenhill to Southway.

children's crafts, ball toss, zoo dip, guessing game, trivia quiz, bingo, tic-tac-toe and computer games. Items for sale include T-shirts, buttons, caps, mugs, tote-bags, postcards, flags, used books and calendars. One unusual and helpful booth activity is the ident-a-kid program available at the crime prevention booth. Food to suit everyone's taste will be available each day (see ad in this paper).

Workers and Information

The Salute to Americans at Work on Sunday from 2-4 p.m. is in recognition of the reason for the holiday weekend. Familiar faces will be Willis Gault showing how to make violins, Gwen Vaccaro demonstrating skin care, Daniel Boone showing blacksmithing and the Greenbelt Recreation Department demonstrating CPR techniques. A new feature will be a NASCAR stock car. Joe Cudmore who is sponsored by H. P. Kidd Oil Company and Chaney Enterprises will tell people what it's like to drive on a racetrack. Nyman Realty will talk about training for a real estate career and the C & P Telephone Company will have a display.

Information tables will be set up at the grassy area near Sov-ran Bank from 1-5 p.m. on Saturday. This will give community groups a chance to tell fair-goers about their activities. The Prince George's Audubon Society will bring its bluebird houses, Greenpeace will have its inflatable whale and Greenbelt Homes, Inc. will have a slide show. Other participating organizations consist of Chesapeake Wildlife Sanctuary, Mellon Bank, the National Organization for Women, the League of Women Voters, Chemical Dependent Anonymous and the city's Community Relations Advisory Board.

Greenway Shopping Center plans to participate in a special way. On Sunday at 7:15 p.m. it will have a drawing for a $100 shopping spree at Greenway. Entry forms for the drawing will be available Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Festival information booth and at the Salute to Workers.

Stage Events

Many outstanding and well-known acts will appear on the Festival stage. One well-known performer is Christian the Magician. Nostalgia of the 50's and 60's will be represented by the music of 3 Wheel Drive and the Sunset Riders. Leon Morris and Associates will play bluegrass music and Capitol Offense will play rhythm and blues. Favorites from past years, Ralph Case Squaredancers, Sahara Dancers, Barry Polisar, the Bob Brown Puppets, Town Clowns and singers Iris Hirsh and Diane Perry will be back.

Miss Greenbelt Pageant

Twelve girls will be contestants in the Miss Greenbelt Pageant. On Saturday evening, the contestants will present a talent show. The climax of the Pageant is Sunday evening when the new Miss Greenbelt is crowned. The contestants have been participating in many Pageant events for the last few weeks including dancing in a scene at the Utopia Theatre production of "10 Nights in a Barroom."

Children's Events

The children's Pet Show will be on Saturday, August 30. Registration begins at 10 a.m. in the Center School/Library grassy area. Dogs must have proof of rabies shots and must be leashed. There will be prizes for the hand-somest, most unusual, funniest, most talented, etc.

Athletic events sure to intrigue the youngsters are the big wheels roadcross, slam dunk competition and family swim carnival.

Special Contests

Special contests for children and also adults offers the old standby, the diaper derby. There will also be a toddler race and a balloon breaking contest. Seniors are issued a special invitation this year to participate in the water balloon toss. Children and adults are invited to join in the "new games." No skill is required and everyone gets a prize. County Schools Open On Tues., September 2

by Barbara Likowski

School will begin Tuesday, September 2 in the Prince Georges County school system for about 101,628 students, down about 2,200 from last year. Operating with a budget of $389 million, $40 million more than last year, the county school board has been able to hire 384 new teachers so far. Over 4000 applications were received as a result of the county's massive teacher recruitment drive. Brian Porter, information officer for the county school system, was impressed with not only the quantity but the quality of the people who have applied. More than 400 should have been hired by the time schools open. This will help to reduce class size in the elementary schools.

Two of these new teachers have been added to the staff of Eleanor Roosevelt High School — Elliot Frankeberger, who will teach Japanese, and JoAnn Keene, a Ph.D. immunologist who formerly worked at the National Institutes of Health, who will teach advanced sciences.

Porter reports that pupils' test scores increased last year and he expects most programs to be off to a good start.

Curricula

According to Dr. Louise Waynant, Associate Superintendent for Instruction, the big emphasis this year will be the implementation of an effective process for school improvement. The focus will be on establishing high expectations for all students so as to achieve excellence and equity. The curriculum will continue strong emphasis on instruction in the basic skills of reading, writing and mathematics.

Waynant also pointed to the opening of the county magnet schools as an exciting instructional program.

Magnet Schools

New to the county schools this year, the magnet school program was inaugurated to help maintain the Court's mandatory desegregation of the county schools. Students who applied for the program were admitted on a first-come, first-served basis within desegregation guidelines. The alternatives offered were: 1 Traditional Academy, a highly structured program emphasizing basic skills; 2) French Immersion, a foreign language program for five-year olds, taught entirely in French, a program that will be expanded within a few years to Grade 6 as the first year's students advance from grade to grade; 3) Montessori, pre-school and kindergarten taught along the educational concepts of the Montessori philosophy; 4) Humanities, Social Sciences, a high school program for 9th graders; 5) Science, Mathematics, elementary and middle school programs for high tech study in science and math; 6) Talented and Gifted, individualized and in-depth learning through an extensive offering of enriched and accelerated instruction at the elementary and middle school level; and 7) Ex-

St. Hugh's Opening

St. Hugh's elementary school will open the day after Labor Day (September 2). All pupils in grades 2-8 will attend school from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. that first week. First graders will be tested the first week of school and will attend only on the days they are being tested.

Starting September 8 school will be open a full day, 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. for pupils in all grades.

Last year's faculty will be returning. Two new teachers will also be added to the staff: Stephanie Gross, who will be teaching third grade, and Kathleen O'Keefe, 7th grade.

tended Day, an added early morning and after-school program for children of working mothers.

Transportation is provided for most of these schools and all are free except the pre-school Montessori and the extended day school. There are still openings in the Middle School science and math program. Most of the others have met the desegregation goals.

Registration

State law requires school attendance by every child between the ages of six and 16. Those who will be five before January 1, 1987 may attend kindergarten. Parents of students new to the school system who have not pre-registered should bring their child's birth certificate, proof of residence in Prince Georges County (deed, rental contract), record of immunization and the child's last report card if entering first grade or above.

Lunch Costs

Student lunches this year will be $95c for elementary pupils and $1.00 for middle and high schoolers. Reduced lunches will be 20c. All adult lunches will be $1.50. Milk will be 25c. Breakfast will cost 60c for all grades; reduced breakfast, 10c. Families who want to know if they qualify for reduced prices will receive information. See SCHOOLS, page 12, col. 3

Lisa Kellaher Receives Catholic Athlete Award

by Pat Molden

The 1986 Catholic Athlete of the Metropolitan Area Award was presented to Lisa Kellaher of Greenbelt during a special ceremony on May 7 at Indian Springs Country Club. Former recipients of this valued award include Roger Staubach, Tom McMillen, Austin Carr and Johnny Dawkins.

Lisa's athletic career began as a basketball, soccer and softball player at St. Hugh's C.Y.O. and Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club. At age nine, Lisa received the "Most Valuable Player" award on Greenbelt's nine and under soccer team. At that time, Lisa was the only female on the team. The following year, she was chosen "Rookie of the Year" on the newly formed Girls Soccer League. In the years that followed, Lisa was honored with six more MVP awards in basketball, soccer and softball. Lisa attended Elizabeth Seton High School, during which time she was selected to the "National Catholic High School All-American Team." She participated in Seton's winning the Catholic Girls Athletic Association High School Tournament.

In 1982 Lisa was recruited by Catholic University, where she led the team to three winning seasons, including wins over three top-twenty teams in 1985-86. During the 1985-86 season, Lisa averaged 26 points per game; she holds 10 C.U. records including "All-Time Leading Scorer" and was picked Division III All-American 1986. Also included in her citations is "All Tournament." She set single game scoring mark with 36 points, single season mark (632), career points (1,587), career assists (472), single game high free throws (18) and 305 steals. She was chosen MVP in the Catholic University Invitational in 1984, 1985 and 1986.

Lisa is the daughter of Eugene and Joanne Kellaher, Empire Place. Her grandmother, Juliet Slaughter, is an original Greenbelter, having arrived in 1937.

HOLIDAY REFUSE SCHEDULE

Because of the Labor Day Holiday, Monday, September 1, 1986, there will be NO COLLECTION that day. Monday's route will be picked up Tuesday. Tuesday's route will be picked up Wednesday. NO PAPER PICK UP ON WEDNESDAY. Thursday and Friday will be on regular schedule.

Letters to the Editor

Co-op Co-operator

To the Editor:

To Carmen Carter I say: thank you is really a little phrase but I hope you know there is a world of wonderful meaning and appreciation in it.

You are an employee at the Co-op Market and you found the card case that slipped and fell out of my wallet after I paid my bill. I didn't know it. Fact is I didn't miss it until the next day. You turned it over to the illustrious store manager Bob Davis and he tried to reach me, but I wasn't home.

I had been to several places before going to the Co-op and was at a total loss when I called the Co-op market. Bob Davis made my day. He had my card case.

By the way, I have replaced the old card case. I should have done it long ago.

THANKS

To the Editor:

Our heartfelt thanks to all our neighbors and friends for your prayers, cards, food and words of comfort during our time of sorrow. Thanks for being so kind and caring.

Open Letter

To the Voters of Greenbelt:

For the past four years, I have had the privilege and challenge of representing your interests on the Prince Georges County Council. Once again, I am a candidate for reelection to that office. However, because I am unopposed in the Democratic primary, my name will not appear on the primary ballot on September 9. Nevertheless... I am planning a spirited campaign for the general election in November. In the meantime, I continue to welcome your comments, questions and suggestions...

There is a required free training program and in-house support. Interested persons call Carolyn Carchedi at 725-4300 Ext. 1280.

Muriel Weidenfeld Named To County Liquor Board

Muriel Weidenfeld was appointed to the Board of License Commissioners by the governor on July 31. In a letter to Weidenfeld, Governor Harry Hughes notified her of the appointment and expressed his confidence that her "judgment and ability in performing the duties of this office will be to the advantage of the State and its people."

Weidenfeld, wife of Greenbelt Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, is a well-known local Democratic activist and community leader. Known in Greenbelt as "Micki," she is a charter member of the Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt Democratic Club in which she has held several offices. In 1974 she was appointed by Governor Marvin Mandel to the Human Relations Commission and served in that post for three years. She has served many years as an election judge and for the past several years has been chief judge of the 6th precinct in Greenbelt.

She has served as Greenbelt coordinator for the campaigns of numerous Democratic candidates over the past 15 years including Spellman and Hoyer for Congress and Sarbanes for Senator. She was a precinct chairperson in the McGovern campaign in 1972 and in Richard Castaldi's campaign for county council in 1982.

Weidenfeld has held a wide range of civic leadership positions including the board of directors of the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center, past president of the Springhill Lake Elementary School PTSA and an officer of the Eleanor Roosevelt High School PTSA, member of the Alcohol and Drug Prevention / Intervention

"Nutcracker" Auditions

The Central Maryland Ballet Theatre announces auditions for "The Nutcracker" ballet on September 6 at 3:30 p.m. at 373 Main St., Laurel. Dancers are needed in beginning through advanced levels for character, corps de ballet, and principal roles. Auditions are open for children ages 10 and above, teens, and adults. Performances for the winter season include Greenbelt, Ft. Meade and Columbia. For further information please call Leslie Fauconnet, artistic director, at 953-3388.

Team at ERHS, and past president of the Boxwood Village Civic Association.

In a letter to the Prince Georges Democratic Central Committee, State Senator Leo Green recommended Weidenfeld's appointment to the board. He said he strongly supported the appointment and mentioned her many years of participation and leadership in the political and community arenas... and sense of civic responsibility.

The appointment to the Board of License Commissioners, which administers liquor license regulations in the county, is for an indefinite term. The vacancy being filled by Weidenfeld occurred when former board member Mary A. Conroy was appointed to fill a vacancy in the House of Delegates from the 23rd district.

ROADS AND HIGHWAY SYSTEMS

All around the 23rd legislative district the need for improved roads and highways is steadily increasing. With the construction of hundreds of new homes in the Bowie, Greenbelt, Glen Dale, Seabrook, Lanham and Kettering areas and in Anne Arundel County, plus the development of the new Town Center, Renaissance Center and Hi Tech Center in Bowie, all are creating astonishing traffic tie ups along routes 50, 197, 202, 214, 450, Greenbelt Road, The Baltimore-Washington Parkway and the Beltway, creating a traffic grid-lock during the rush hours.

My main objectives on this issue are: to work for an improved highway system that will access in a convenient manner all traffic; to work for adequate funding for the construction of the new highway system, and to prepare for the future highway conditions of the 23rd legislative district.

New Greenbelt Calendar To Be Sold at Festival

A new Greenbelt calendar will make its debut at this year's Greenbelt Labor Day Festival. Designed by the 50th Anniversary Committee, the calendar features color scenes from contemporary Greenbelt and old photos of its history. The calendar also carries important Greenbelt dates and will make a useful gift for all Greenbelt residents. It is expected to be popular with former residents as well who can keep track of happenings in the city and look on familiar places. The calendar has a comb binding for easy use on the desk or wall and it will be sold at the 50th Anniversary booth in the carnival area.

Also on sale will be postcards featuring sights in old and new Greenbelt. These can be purchased individually or in sets. "Buy a Date" is the name of the game at the 50th anniversary booth. Select a date from this or any other year and try to win any of the 50th anniversary prizes, including $50.00, tickets to the 50th anniversary dinner dance, the 50th anniversary book, and more. Visitors who stop by the booth can also get an update on all of the 50th anniversary activities.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

The Greenbelt Variety Store in Roosevelt Center was broken into during the night of August 21 by first breaking through a roof door of the adjacent vacant store, then breaking through the wall into the variety store. Money and cigarettes were stolen.

Three TV's and two VCR's were stolen August 15 from two apartments in the same building on Mandan Road. One apartment was entered by forcing locks on a screen and sliding glass door, the other through an unlocked patio door.

A 25-year-old male nonresident who was discovered kneeling in front of the open safe in the manager's office at the Greenway Liquor store in Greenway Center about 4:30 p.m., August 16 was arrested after money was found to be missing. He was held on $2000 bond.

Sgt. John Lann and Officer James Parker arrested a 41-year-old nonresident about 9:30 p.m., August 15 at Reiddy's Exxon station at Greenway Center where the man had been harassing a woman. When he began kicking Officer Parker he was arrested for vandalism, assault and resisting arrest.

On August 16 an outboard motor was reported stolen from the Bowman's boat concession at the lake in Buddy Attick Park.

At the Shoe Town store in Greenway Center on August 14 Officer Thomas Kemp arrested a 31-year-old female nonresident for shoplifting after she hid four pairs of shoes under her jacket. She was held on $3,000 bond. At the same store on August 19 Officer James Donovan arrested two 21-year-old female nonresidents on the same charge after they tried to leave with shoes concealed in their purses.

An office in Greenway Center was entered during the night of August 18. A set of kitchen knives and an assortment of pantry hose were stolen.

A vending machine at the swimming pool at 7600 Hanover Parkway was broken into on August 20. Money and food were stolen.

The front window of the Plaza Dome at Beltway Plaza was punctured and cracked on August 17.

Pediatric Predicaments

by Andrew G. Aronfy, M.D., F.A.A.P.

Meet the Author

Dr. Aronfy, a board-certified pediatrician, has recently moved his office from Seabrook to 7525 Greenway Center Drive, Suite 110, Greenbelt, MD 20770, Tel. No. 220-1200, for the practice of general pediatrics with a special interest in attention deficit disorder, and hyperactivity.

Dr. Aronfy emphasizes the total care of his patients. He, his nurses, and all members of his staff are geared to render personalized attention to all who seek his services. Questions are encouraged at each visit, and usually written as well as oral explanations are given after all checkups and most sick visits. The nurses have a daily telephone hour between 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. for routine "mothering" type of questions.

Because of his enlarging practice he has recently acquired an associate, Dr. Vijaya Kumar. She has had excellent pediatric training in India and in this country at Georgetown University. She is especially skilled in dealing with adolescent young ladies.

New Patients are welcome!

Cold or Allergy

"Doctor, I am desperate. My child has had a cold for many weeks, and nothing I do seems to help. Would you give her a shot, and prescribe a strong tonic to build up her resistance?" This is a common plea from a desperate mother whose child has a continuous or recurrent nasal congestion that defies all remedies.

First I explain that a "cold" is an upper respiratory infection caused by a virus. It usually creates a severely ill appearance and a high fever. There is no cure for a cold, and all treatment is aimed at temporary relief while the disease lasts. Fortunately, an uncomplicated cold cannot last longer than about five days. Nasal congestion that lasts longer than a week is most likely to be caused by respiratory allergy.

The symptoms of an allergic child are quite typical. He (or she) is usually not very ill, but he is never completely well, either. He breathes through his mouth most of the time and snores at night. He frequently snuffles, snorts, rubs his nose, and clears his throat. He has periodic sneezing spells, and every month or so he has a febrile illness lasting about three days. Ear infections are common, and when the ears are not infected, they are "blocked" causing partial loss of hearing and crackling noises.

One of the most annoying symptoms is a night cough caused by post-nasal drip. In some cases the cough is accompanied by wheezing. Sudden nose bleeds are common, as well as swollen bluish lower eye lids denoting sinus congestion. Often there is a family history of hay fever, sinus trouble or asthma.

A common set of symptoms associated with allergy can be grouped under the title of "Tension-Fatigue Syndrome." Its chief manifestations are restlessness, irritability, sluggishness, vague headaches, pains in the abdomen, and possibly bed-wetting. (Of course, not all bed-wetting is caused by allergy.)

A doctor's first task is to convince parents that they have an allergic child. Parents are very important members of the therapeutic team. They must have a lot of faith and patience, and must do a lot of detective work to find the causative agents.

In some cases the elimination of one or two factors from the child's environment (such as milk, eggs, dog hair, or tobacco smoke) will bring about relief. In other cases allergic agents, such as molds or pollen, are more obscure and impossible to eliminate.

Drugs can be tried next and usually a combination of antihistamines and decongestants are given. These will only provide temporary relief, but as long as symptoms are mild, they are adequate. In the winter, a central humidifier and a cold steam vaporizer are highly beneficial.

Ultimately, if these methods are of no avail the child must undergo a complete allergy workup by a conscientious and competent allergist. Any attempt at shortcuts are not only useless, but may be harmful. Much time and effort must be spent with the patient to come up with a custom-made vaccine, which should be as personal as a pair of eye-glasses. Allergy shots may have to be given for several years and are usually very effective in maintaining the patient symptom free.

In summary, if your child "keeps a constant cold" but does not appear acutely ill, and usually has no fever, consider him to have an allergy, and don't press your doctor for useless medications.

Republicans & Unaffiliateds Increase, Democrats Keep Registration Lead

by Mavis Fletcher

Almost 8500 residents are registered to vote in the four precincts which serve Greenbelt. Some 7,200 of them are registered as Democrats or Republicans and will be eligible to vote in the primary election on September 9. Almost 1200 voters have declined to affiliate themselves with one of the major parties. These voters (known as "unaffiliated," "declines," or "independents") are allowed to vote only for candidates for non-partisan positions. The school board slots are the only non-partisan positions in the current election; in Greenbelt, the candidates for school board are unopposed and will not appear on the primary ballot. Therefore, the unaffiliated voters will not be allowed to vote in this primary.

Greenbelt voter registration figures for 1986 show slight gains for the Republican party and almost identical gains among the unaffiliated voters. About 24% of the voters are registered as Republican, up from 22% in 1984. Unaffiliated voters make up about 14% of the registrants, up from 12% two years ago.

In Prince Georges County as a whole, however, Republicans have gained only marginally; they constitute 20.5% of those registered. Unaffiliated voters, on the other hand, have increased from slightly more than 9% to 10% of the voters in the county.

The Democratic party retains its huge margin in registered voters in the county and the city. In Prince Georges County, Democratic voters outnumber Republicans almost 3½ to 1, the same margin as in 1984. In the city, the ratio has dropped slightly to about 2½ Democrats for each Republican registered.

All precincts in the city have lower Democratic registration for this year's primary than they did in 1984, a presidential election year when registration is traditionally higher than in off-year elections. In all precincts except Precinct 3 in the core of the city, registration is higher in 1986 than in 1982, the last off-year primary election.

On the Republican side, all precincts except Precinct 13 (Eleanor Roosevelt High School) have retained and slightly bettered their levels of registration since the presidential primary in 1984. The ranks of the affiliated voters have gained slightly in the two precincts in old Greenbelt and lost at ERHS and Springhill Lake.

Greenbelt is in the 21st Electoral District. The accompanying chart gives registration figures by precinct for 1982, 1984, and 1986.

Girl Scout Membership Meeting Is September 9

Girl Scout troops are forming for the fall. Programs are offered for girls from kindergarten through grade 12. Adults are needed in many capacities. Parents of girls interested in scouting should attend the enrollment meeting at Center School in the Media Center on Tuesday, September 9 at 7:30 p.m. For more information call Rena Hull, 474-2852.

Hazardous Trash Should Be Handled with Care

The City requests that residents do not place potentially hazardous articles with the regular refuse.

A College Park employee was seriously injured while collecting refuse when a 30 lb. compressed gas container was crushed while packing the refuse, resulting in an explosion. The top of the container blew off striking the employee in the head. He also inhaled a large dose of a hazardous gas rendering him unconscious. If not for the quick action by fellow workers, "the employee could have suffered an immediate heart attack." The long range impact is unknown; the material is being tested at this time.

For an answer to any questions concerning the disposal of any item that may be a hazard, please contact the Public Works Department at 474-8004.

Harmans to Host Dem. Candidates Tues., Sept. 2

Greenbelters are invited to meet some of the Democratic candidates of the 23rd District on Tuesday, September 2, at 8 p.m. at 204 Lastner Lane (residence of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Harman). People can meet and discuss the facts and issues with candidates Sen. Leo Green, Del. Mary Conroy, Del. "Buzz" Ryan and Central Committee members Suzie Harrigan, Vivian Jenkins and Tom White. Refreshments will be served. For reservation call 474-5156.

P.G. County Hospice Gives Bereaved Persons Program

Hospice of Prince Georges County, Inc is offering a six-week program for bereaved persons to come together and share their grief. A supportive atmosphere will offer discussion group format on issues including, awareness, coping and enrichment.

The group will begin Tuesday, September 2, 7:30 - 9 p.m. at Nativity Episcopal Church, 5306 Manchester Drive, Camp Springs, Maryland. For further information contact Hospice of Prince Georges County, 459-6104.

GHI NOTES

Look for the GHI booth run by the Member and Community Relations Committee at the Labor Day Festival Information Area on Saturday, August 30 from 1-5 p.m. There will be information about GHI, free key chains while they last and a slide show.

GHI offices will be closed on Monday, September 1, for the Labor Day Holiday. For emergency maintenance, members may call 474-6011.

Many summer maintenance projects — swales, trim paint, garage roofs — have been delayed because the summer crew resigned earlier than anticipated. Many of the workers were from out-of-state attending a religious conference at the University of Maryland. When the university needed the dormitory rooms in which they were staying, the workers had to leave. The projects that have been put on a delayed status will be completed sometime this season.

GHI will sponsor free blood pressure testing on Wednesday, September 3 from 2-4 p.m.

As a result of the membership vote at the Annual Meeting, a new Mutual Ownership Contract has been written which provides for the occupancy of homes by the member, the member's family and one unrelated adult. Any member of GHI who wishes to have an unrelated adult live in the home must sign this new Mutual Ownership Contract. GHI will provide this service free of charge unless the new contract involves a name change in which case there would be a slight charge. For more information and to receive a sample copy of the new Mutual Ownership Contract, call the GHI Processing Office (474-4161).

House of Delegates

Send your kind of mainstream Democrat to Annapolis. He will listen to you.

As a Maryland State Delegate, AL GOLATO will initiate or support . . .

- more citizen say and local government authority in land use, development, open space and traffic-generating decisions affecting their communities and commuting.
- State tax law changes to assure that Federal income tax reform does not result in automatic state tax increases.
- tougher scrutiny and control of State chartered Savings & Loan institutions, a halt to issuing new charters and better ethics and disclosure rules relating to them.
- Identified needs for senior citizens/retirees such as: probate reform, tax exemption, Alzheimer's disease research, nursing home/home care and transportation.
- long-range funding commitments for elementary and secondary schools and adequate support for higher education. (Al Golato chaired the special committee which recommended raising teacher salaries in Prince George's county from the lowest in the area).
- more consumer protection against excessive insurance rates and credit card interest charges.
- untiring efforts to reduce the crime rate and extend victim's rights.

Everyone Welcome

"Unity Through Community Involvement," the theme of the Labor Day Festival, describes a weekend when all Greenbelters can come together, both in volunteer work and for entertainment. Founded thirty-two years ago, the Festival has traditionally given Greenbelt organizations an opportunity to earn money and show off their activities. The Festival is a non-profit organization directed by a Steering Committee elected yearly. It receives its operating expenses from donations of local businessmen and from a percentage of the profits from booths and carnival rides. All Greenbelt residents and organizations are invited to participate in the planning and activities of the Festival.

Public Schools Schedule Adult Education Classes

Prince Georges County public schools provide basic educational help for county residents who are 16 years of age and older and are not enrolled in a regular day school. These classes provide educational opportunity for adults who need help.

Free classes include ABE, beginning reading and math; Pre-GED, preparing for GED instruction (high school equivalency); ESL, English as a second language (levels 1-4); and Citizenship, citizens test preparation. Tuition classes in GED (high school equivalency test preparation) and ESL (English as a second language, levels 5-6) are also available.

A free test is given at registration to determine whether students should be in free or tuition classes. Registration is at the school on September 8 and classes begin the week of September 15. Applicants can ask for a brochure in the public library or call the Adult Education Office (952-4562) for more information.

In Greenbelt evening classes will be held at Eleanor Roosevelt High School on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. Daytime classes will be at Greenbelt Middle School. Interested persons should call 474-4477 for

Metrobus Hearing At Roosevelt, Sept. 4

A public hearing on proposed reductions of runs on the R11 and R15 Metrobus lines will be held on Thursday, September 4 at 7:30 p.m. at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Persons wishing to testify at the hearing should call 962-1092. Each speaker will be limited to five minutes.

Wed. Workshop at SHL

Every Wednesday Springhill Lake sponsors a new and different workshop for Springhill Lake residents, their guests and residents of Greenbelt.

September workshops include Dessert Tasting—September 3, Potomac Mills Shopping Trip—September 10, and Family Night Magic Show—September 17.

Workshops are held every Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Springhill Lake Fountain Lodge. For more information call 474-4555.

Golato Runs for House

Al James Golato, long active in the affairs of the Prince Georges County and the city of Bowie, recently launched his campaign for one of the three seats in the Maryland House of Delegates representing the 23rd District.

Golato is a past chairman of the Prince Georges County school board and is now chairman of the school system's Ethics Commission and a member of its Advisory Council for Business and Industry. He recently chaired a teacher salary study committee which recommended an increase in teacher salaries. One of the drafters of Bowie's governing charter and an original city council member, Golato has served 17 years in elective office. He is currently active in public employee and senior citizen legislative affairs and also hosts a local television talk show.

An executive in private industry, Golato is a regular tax spokesman before the news media and Congress. Before joining the private sector, he was National Director of Public Affairs for the Internal Revenue Service and assistant to three IRS commissioners. His background includes fraud and racketeer investigation, management, tax law, teaching, writing and editing. A U.S. Army veteran, Golato is a former public employee union president and immediate past president of Kiwanis.

Golato is an accounting graduate from Temple University with post-graduate courses in management and communications. He and his wife, Vera, and their three children have lived in the area for 24 years.

games" are designed to stretch the imagination, provide exercise, build community and make all participants feel like winners. Participants may catch a dragon's tail, become a bumper car or get turned into an octopus—all will certainly laugh and have fun. Special contests will begin at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the grassy area by the post office.

Exhibition and Shows

The Photo Exhibition and Competition for all ages is returning this year. Photographers will have their works on display Saturday, Sunday and Monday in the Utopia Theater lobby. Awards will be given on Sunday evening.

Artists of all ages will display an endless variety of works in the annual Art Show at the Municipal Building. Art Show awards on Sunday evening will include an award for the work best demonstrating the theme "Americans at Work." An award will also be given to the "Community Favorite" determined by the votes of those visiting the Art Show.

Parade

The route for the annual Labor Day Parade will be different from that used in recent years. The route for Monday's Parade will go straight down Crescent Road from Greenhill to Southway. This route will be tried this year and next in order to have more large floats in the Parade. Large floats have been unable to participate before because of the difficulty of negotiating corners at the intersections of the previous route. Civic groups, invited dignitaries, majorettes, bands, floats, clowns, fire engine, antique cars, decorated bikes and trikes and more will pass by the Parade reviewing stand across from Roosevelt Mall. The Outstanding Citizen of 1986 will be the Parade Marshall. The Parade Chairperson promises a spectacular show and maybe a few surprises.

Free Rides

Free rides are being offered courtesy of the city's bus service, "The Greenbelt Connection" and Capitol Cadillac. The Festival Committee is grateful to the Greenbelt Woman's Club for answering the information phone, the City of Greenbelt and Capitol Cadillac for lending its van for this service.

By calling the Festival information number (474-6712) Greenbelters can arrange to be picked up anywhere within the city limits and driven to the Festival. The service will be available from 7:00-10:30 p.m. on Friday, from 1-10:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday and from 1-6 p.m. on Monday. In addition, rides to the parade are available for those who make arrangements before Monday morning. By going to the Festival information booth, people can also arrange a ride home.

The weekend should be a perfect opportunity for Greenbelters to carry out the Festival's theme of "Unity Through Community Involvement."

Schools Open

mation and guidelines from their children's schools.

Busing

Busing in Greenbelt will remain about the same with high schoolers walking and middle school children being bused. Elementary school pupils from Greenbriar-Glen Oaks who will attend Center School will continue to be bused.

Extra-Curricular Activities

The $5.00 activity fee that was previously charged to high school students who wished to take part in extra-curricular activities has been discontinued. Students will still need to have a 2.0 better grade average in order to participate in sports or activities, but averages will be computed each quarter instead of each semester as was done last year.

Expulsion Policy

Strict standards will continue to be upheld for drug, alcohol and weapons (including knives) abuse. Students need to be aware that none of these may be brought to school at any time, and that expulsion will result should this rule be broken. According to the Code of Student Conduct, students will be expelled for the first offense involving the use of or possession of weapons. For incidents involving drugs or alcohol the student will be expelled for the first offense involving distribution and the second offense involving possession. Most of these students are not eligible for readmission to the Prince Georges County school system. Students who are readmitted must remain expelled for at least the remainder of the semester in which the incident occurred and the following full semester. They must also present documentation of satisfactory participation in the alcohol/drug treatment program.

Cars Must Stop 20 Feet From Stopped School Bus

Prince Georges County motorists are reminded that a new state law now requires all vehicles to stop not less than 20 feet away from a school bus that is flashing its stop signal. The law increases the distance from the previous 10 feet clearance.

To help motorists observe the new law, 84 buses of the public schools are equipped with a new stop signal arm. The "arm" is an octagonal shaped sign with white letters and border, a red background and two flashing red lights. The device swings out from the left side of the bus each time the driver activates the regular stop signal red lights on the front and rear of the bus.

In addition, 197 of the school system's buses are now equipped with an improved eight-light system. This system provides the flashing of amber warning lights prior to the actual stopping of a school bus and activation of red flashing lights.
